Mercedes-Benz

...so we thought we'd smooth things out for you.

At present, the construction industry is a rough place to be. Therefore not only do you need your trucks to work hard, but you need your money to work hard too.

The Axor 8x4 from Mercedes-Benz is the reliable workhorse that can do just that. Proven to have a payload and fuel consumption that can compete with any construction truck on the market, and with the back up support of the Mercedes-Benz network, the Axor 8x4 is now available at just £342.13 a week.

The right truck

The Axor 8x4 combines toughness with a potential payload of over 20 tonnes. It also comes with peace of mind built-in as we've included a two year R&M package. So, the right tool for the job today and in the years ahead.

*Plus deposit, fees and optional final payment. Monthly terms apply.

The right value

The Axor 8x4 is now available at just £342.13* a week meaning that despite the credit crunch you can still afford the best. This is based on a 3236K tipper including full chassis R&M cover. Of course, Mercedes-Benz residual values are also some of the best around, so not only is running the Axor highly competitive, owning it is too.

The right support

At Mercedes-Benz we want to make the acquisition and running of your vehicle as hassle free as possible. Our nationwide dealer network means there are always experts on hand wherever you are. Our R&M contracts provide a range of cover to give you peace of mind, but should you encounter any problems our Service 24h team will keep any delay to a minimum. We also have our own driver training network to help you get the most out of your truck and keep up with your CPC qualification.

When it comes to tough jobs you need a truck with real grit.
